Journalism Trailblazer

to take the helm at 2024 St. Patrick's Day Parade

Betsy Ross is a name well known in Cincinnati Broadcasting and for her international sports coverage. Ross graced the airwaves at WCPO and WLWT news for years and now she will be taking on the role of Honorary Grand Marshall for the 2024 Cincinnati St. Patrick's Day Parade. "I am so looking forward to being the Grand Marshal," exclaimed Ross! "There have been so many distinguished Cincinnatians who have served that role, from historic Irish families to Kenny Anderson. I am truly honored to now be a part of the history."

Making history is not unusual to the Indiana native. Growing up near Connersville and later graduating from Ball State and Notre Dame, the television journalist and entrepreneur is well known for her time in front of the camera in the tri-state, but she is also well known globally. It was during a stint covering the Olympics for WLWT that ESPN took notice and Ross found herself relocating to Bristol, Connecticut, and the coveted ESPN anchor desk. At that time, it was not a spot not traditionally held by a woman. There is no doubt Ross' leadership and professionalism there opened doors for women to follow in sports journalism. The September 11 attack and Ross back to town to be closer to family. In 2002 Betsy and Cincinnati Marketing Executive Jackie Reau started GameDay Communications. A marketing firm that assists clients from major sports teams to Hollywood filmmakers. As a person who has trotted across the globe, for Ross it is home that creates the best memories, including the parade. "Cincinnati's celebration truly celebrates the city and the people here, Ross adds, "the part I enjoy the most is the kids, the youngsters so enjoy the music and the pageantry." Ross shared, "It is a hometown celebration. It celebrates Irish families here who, along with so many other immigrants, made our city so vibrant in the 1800s. It celebrates our neighbors, our friends, the people we go to church with, it is a celebration of all things Cincinnati." Ross is hoping for good weather this year and a record setting crowd. One of her favorite memories is when the parade was broadcast on TV. She would watch it from her Indiana home as a teen and shared it is just one of the things that made her fall in love with Cincinnati.
